✔ Step 2: Setup Your Delivery Method

For this recipe we recommend a Zoom meeting.

Zoom meetings are free up to 40 minutes. Or if you want to offer more flexibility and have unlimited duration you can upgrade to Pro. To learn more about Zoom visit their pricing page at <https://zoom.us/pricing>.

Once you have your account you'll need to set up a meeting. For a quick tutorial watch pastor Shane Anderson as he explains setup for his church members (watch here). Each leader will want to watch the video and quickly learn how to screen share, utilize breakout sessions, and set up a poll.

We've also written an article about Zoom meetings »

✔ Step 3: Think Through Interactions

Each Bible coach may want to find their own methods. Here are our recommendations...

Questline provides studies for each video lesson.

1. Share a PDF copy with each student (whether solo or in a group).
2. Screen share your copy of the lesson and use Zoom's Annotations if necessary.
3. Pre-build any polls or questions you want to ask using the polls system. (optional) Setup the time for your next meeting while finishing up.

TIP: We recommend you prepare a small introduction and a ice breaker question to start engaging everyone and creating connection.

✔ Step 4: Consider Your Decisions

As a Bible study decisions will come naturally and often through questions and answers. Always review the material ahead of time to prepare for the study you are about to watch.

✔ Step 5: Start Your Marketing

You have everything in place to promote your study.

Bible studies can be promoted online (Facebook/Instagram/Google) or by using Bible study card mailers

Recipe Notes

To those whom He encountered, Jesus' teachings were like a mighty Thunderstorm. His words and accompanying actions were so compelling that the reverberations are still felt by those living today. Take this opportunity to join hundreds of churches that have joined the Thunder team as they explore ancient ruins and exotic locations to showcase the validity of the Bible and its teachings. This visual Bible study is like nothing you've ever seen.
